

CARMEN KLINGER

BIO

Carmen is a nutritionist specializing in Evidence-based Public Health and Public Health Nutrition. She holds a Master's degree in Public Health from the LMU Munich, a Bachelor's degree in Nutritional Science from the Technical University of Munich (TUM) and a Bachelor's degree in Tourism Management from the Munich University of Applied Sciences. She is a research associate and PhD candidate at the Chair of Public Health and Health Services Research at the LMU Munich with a particular interest in food environment and systems research as well as sustainable diets.

As lead of WP2, being part of her PhD work, she will focus on the role of the food industry in addressing the double burden of malnutrition in South Africa. As co-lead of WP7, and being heavily involved in WP8, she will support the expansion of existing regional networks of food environment and systems researchers as well as integrated knowledge translation.

EMAIL: CKLINGER@IBE.MED.UNI-MUENCHEN.DE